Connecting You To Your Market

Consumers have become budget conscious, and brand-name product purchases are rapidly being replaced with private labels. Plesh Contract Packaging views our primary role as problem solvers. As product developers and packaging engineers, we are very adept at listening to our customers, analyzing their needs, and designing creative solutions to their product and packaging challenges and opportunities.

We can help you develop a successful private label or position your existing product line to be a leader in today's ever-changing marketplace.

3 Art/Printing

Our full time designers and production personnel produce world-class labels, printed bottles and packaging. Plesh Packaging's innovative silk-screen department features a production line capable of producing thousands of bottles per day.

Our In-House R&D Department Can Provide Tailored Formulations and Eliminate Outsourcing Costs

From Concept...

1 Conception

As your partner, Plesh will help you create brand awareness that targets the needs of smart, cost conscious consumers.

With over 300 years combined experience by one of the best teams in the industry. Our core business is mixing and filling oil and water based liquids, waxes, pastes, powders and slurries. We offer over 1600 base formulations and specialize in short runs, fast delivery and competitive pricing. With services ranging from packaging design to fulfillment, we are your one stop outsource partner

2 Manufacturing

Plesh Contract Packaging excels at its ability to adjust to customer needs. Our facility is equipped to fill any container from a 1.5 oz bottle to a 55 gallon drum. This manufacturing flexibility means that once a formula is developed or chosen from our library, our filling lines can be configured for automatic mixing and bottling of your product. Our equipment is easy to change over, providing flexibility, short run capability and fast turn-around. Our ability to do blow molding in house gives our customers another critical link in the overall continuity of product development and manufacturing. We have a cross-trained workforce, able to handle shifting priorities and contingencies with uncompromised quality and a customer first mindset.

4 Completion

When it comes to getting a product into the hands of your vendors and customers, Plesh Contract Packaging's knowledge and resources are invaluable. Our extensive experience enables us to come up with packaging solutions quickly. We are expert packaging engineers with ideas to reduce costs, add efficiencies and sell more product. Add to this, a talented graphic team that will work with you to design unique packaging and labels that appeal to the broad demographics you need to reach.
